

RE Intent

Key Purpose

Why is this subject important?

- RE subject matter gives particular opportunities to promote an ethos of respect for others, challenge stereotypes and build understanding of other cultures and beliefs. This contributes to promoting a positive and inclusive school ethos that champions democratic values and human rights.
- RE makes an important contribution to a school's duty to promote community cohesion. It provides a key context to develop young people's understanding and appreciation of diversity, to promote shared values and to challenge racism and discrimination
- RE gives children the knowledge, skills and understanding to discern and value truth and goodness, strengthening their capacity for making moral judgements and for evaluating different types of commitment to make positive and healthy choices.
- RE contributes to pupils' personal development and well-being and to community cohesion by promoting mutual respect and tolerance in a diverse society.
- RE offers opportunities for personal reflection and spiritual development, deepening the understanding of the significance of religion in the lives of others - individually, communally and cross-culturally.

Key Principles

What are the distinctive ways of knowing, working and learning in this subject?

- We work from The Emmanuel Project which is an RE scheme of work for EYFS to Y6 which covers the Suffolk Agreed Syllabus for RE (2012). This is a set of enquiry based units on Christianity and other world faiths.
- A range of teaching and learning activities will ensure that pupils learn effectively and with interest.
- The long and medium term plans ensure that there is progression throughout the school and that children are building upon knowledge learnt in previous years
- A range of visitors will be invited to support the teaching of RE, and where possible, there will be planned visits to places of worship.
- We have a wide range of resources to support teaching of RE
- We use art and craft, drama, role play and dance to enable students to express their ideas.
